

How to get involved?

Adult Learners' Week is an opportunity for organisations that offer any form of adult learning activity to either present a special promotional activity or to label their existing learning activities as 'Adult Learners' Week' events.

If your organisation offers any form of learning - for example, courses, classes, lectures, exhibitions, tours, training programs, tutoring, discussion groups - then you should use Adult Learners' Week as an opportunity to celebrate and promote what you do to the wider community. You could hold an open day, set up a display in a shopping centre, host a learning expo, present demonstrations or performances .... anything that offers members of the local community an opportunity to find out where you are and what you do.

Do I need permission to present an Adult Learners' Week event?

No. You can simply plan your event and enter it in the national online calendar of events at www.adultlearnersweek.org

What help is available to me in planning my Adult Learners' Week activities?

In each state there is an Adult Learners' Week Coordinator who can assist in your preparations for the Week. For example, you may be able to apply for a grant to assist in the cost of staging your event, and many states offer awards for learners, providers and programs. Contact details for ALW Coordinators are available from www.adultlearnersweek.org.

There is also a National Coordination team at Adult Learning Australia who manage the Adult Learners' Week website, co-ordinate national activities and provide advice and support for all coordinators of Adult Learners' Week events.

The Adult Learners' Week website contains all the latest information about Adult Learners' Week including planning advice and updates. Kits are available to help you organise local activities as part of national initiatives.

How can I promote my Adult Learners' Week activities?

- State and Territory Coordinators: Contact your state Adult Learners' Week coordinator to see how you can become part of the promotion of events occurring locally. Go to the Adult Learners' Week website to find out the contact details for the coordinator in your state.
- Free online calendar: The national Adult Learners' Week website features a calendar where you can enter and promote your Adult Learners' Week events free of charge. This calendar is the main tool through which members of the general public and the media find out about Adult Learners' Week activities.

- Logos & flier templates: A blank A4 flier template is available for use in the production of photocopied fliers. You can also download the Adult Learners' Week logo and icons from the website.
- Poster: A full-colour poster is available for display in the lead up to and during Adult Learners' Week activities.
